WebBeds

Independent hotels¹ place higher value on distribution partners, like WebBeds, who can act on their behalf & lower the cost of guest acquisition.

Independent hotels are the largest segment.

Outside the top 10 global chains, there are a lot of other hotels.

Often fragmented, with limited sales & marketing resources and far less access to global audience reach than large chains.

We provide independent hotels a highly valued service as a sales, marketing & distribution partner, lowering the cost of guest acquisition.

Multiplied sources of demand.

A single contract gives access to a diverse global network of travel buyers, complementing any direct sales strategies.

Connection flexibility.

We offer a dynamic range of connection capabilities into our marketplace where we support billions of searches every day.

Rate Control.

We provide the real-time oversight and flexibility over rates and inventory, important to independent hotels.

External Marketing Partner.

We deliver BAU and bespoke marketing and sales activations to a qualified audience of travel buyers globally.

Market Intelligence.

We share quality data, market trends and AI forecasting to make more informed choices and support decision making.
